Historical Structures

Guimaras Heritage Museum
The Guimaras Heritage Museum is a treasure trove of artifacts, artworks, and relics that showcase the country's colorful past. With its diverse exhibits and captivating collections, this historical museum invites visitors to embark on a journey through time and immerse themselves in the fascinating narratives of the Philippines.

Guisi Lighthouse
Guisi Lighthouse is a ruin of an 18th century Spanish parola located at the Guisi Point of Barangay Dolores in Nueva Valencia. Known as Faro de Punta Luzaran, it is the second oldest lighthouse in the Philippines.

Navalás Church
Built in 1680, the Navalás Church is the oldest roman catholic church and the only existing heritage church on the Island of Guimaras. The architecture of this quaint church is reminiscent of the Jaro Cathedral in Iloilo, which is due to Guimaras being a vicia of Jaro during the Spanish period.

Guimaras
Mango Capital of the Philippines

Guimaras is well known for its agricultural crops, particularly the mangoes, half of all exported mangoes come from this island. The island province is famous for producing one of the sweetest mangoes in the world, thus earning the nickname "Mango Capital of the Philippines" from local and foreign tourists.

Guimaras Mangoes are touted as the sweetest in the world, thus the demand for the fruit in local and international markets is high and it has become a centerpiece of the province of the island-province's tourism sector. From sweet to savory, mango adapts effortlessly to various cuisines, such as jam, pizza and bibingka, enchanting taste buds worldwide.
